Introduction and Design of the Study
 The E-bikes are originated in Japan in the early 1980s. Improved battery and motor technology component modularity, its economics of scale improvements have meant E-bikes can now travel longer distances are faster and more affordable the ever. In the past decade more than 150 million E-bikes have been sold the largest and most rapid uptake of alternative fueled vehicles in the history of motorization. The feeling of freedom and being one with the Nature comes only from riding a two-wheeler. Indians prefer the two wheelers because of their small manageable size low pricing and maintenance and availability of loans on liberal terms. Indian streets are full of people of all age
